NEW AND MOST EFFECTIVE REMEDY.

DR. WOOD'S

SARSAPARILLA AND WILD CHERRY

BITTERS,

For the Cure of the following Diseases.

Jaundice, Liver Complaint, all Bilious Complaints Sick Headache, Heart Burn, Indigestion, Habitual Costiveness, Piles, Palpitations of the Heart, Loss of Appetite Dyspepsia Nervous Irritations Debilitated Stomach Languor Depression of Spirits Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Diseases, Cankers Syphilod Diseases, Scrofula, Impurities of the Blood Pimples and Pustules on the Face Hereditary Humors Cold sores and all diseases arising from an injudicious use of mercury

The attention of the invalid public and all those afflicted by any of the above diseases is respectfully called to the merits of a new and invaluable preparation from an original recipe of a distinguished physician combining in itself the most active remedial properties of two of the very first articles in the Materia Medica

The Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters, were introduced to the public about twelve months ago, and during that period their success has been so great as to induce the proprietor to offer them with still more confidence in the full belief that by entering into more extensive use they will prove a blessing to all those suffering from the diseases above enumerated

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION.

This enormous, distressing and almost indescribable complaint—the torture of civilized society has its foundation in a deranged condition of the stomach and bowels Those afflicted by it are cut off from half the enjoyments of life—the pleasures of the table and a sweet and regular sleep—rheumatism a confirmed Dyspepsia fatally neglected, is but the forerunner of more dangerous diseases it not of death itself At its first appearance it should be checked by an attention to diet and regularity and by the use of some safe and Salutary medicine All that invalids can desire of this kind is presented in Dr WOOD'S Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters, a skillfully prepared and delightful Tonic and Aperient at every day becoming more & more popular The following is one among many certificates of the efficacy of this medicine in the cure of Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Headache, &c

Col Gibbs is well known in this vicinity and cheerfully gives his testimony of the efficacy of this Medicine

Sandwich Sept 4 1844

Dear Sir— This is to certify that my daughter has been troubled with Dyspepsia for a number of years attended with almost constant headache and other distressing symptoms which accompany the disease She visited Boston to a noted herbalist for advice of the justly celebrated physicians of that city all to no purpose By the advertisement of a friend I was induced to purchase a bottle of Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters Before taking one bottle she was relieved entirely of the headache and after taking two or three bottles the other symptoms entirely disappeared N S GIBBS

THE UNIVERSAL COMPLAINT, HEADACHE.

Who is there that does not become really sick from this distressing affliction? We meet with it in all classes condition and sexes the torture it gives, the profit it gives rise to, the nervous and irritable and nervous state it makes the business or enjoyment it prevents is incalculable In most the sole cause of their misery is to be found in a disordered condition of the stomach and bowels in consequence the food taken does not nourish the system, and preventing that great blessing of life a regular certain and easy action Only one remedy is and has been sufficiently well tried In order to effect this desirable object, no medicine ever offered to the public has been used with greater success than Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters combining all the advantages of the tonic properties of the root of the day and time from many of their usual disadvantages

The annexed certificate of Col Boylston will be read with interest by those affected with Headache, and other complaints arising from a deranged stomach

New Bedford Aug 10, 1844

Dear Sir I find Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters all that you recommended them to be and take great pleasure in saying that I think them the best preparation of the kind now offered to the public I have been troubled for a long time with Jaundice and a derangement of the stomach attended with Head Ache and Vertigo which was so bad at times that I could not see and I think that I am entirely cured by the use of those bitters I have used them in my family, and would recommend them to every one suffering from Jaundice, Indigestion and Headache JOHN BAYLIES

DEPRESSION OF SPIRITS

At certain seasons of the year and particularly in the spring many persons are subject to a depression of the spirits accompanied by a debilitated stomach, loss of appetite, nervous irritation, general languor, and a variety of symptoms which it is impossible to describe The only way from such a disease is to strengthen the stomach by the use of proper tonic remedies to bring up the muscles secure an appetite for food and a healthy nervous irritation and by putting the body in a high state of health to produce ease and strength of mind Indeed this medicine is more effective than the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters They are confidently recommended as the best SPRING MEDICINE ever offered to the public One trial of their virtues will be sufficient to convince all of the valuable properties and virtues which we used them will never regret to any other remedy for this painful disease destructive as it is to all happiness and usefulness in life

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC

Be particular and ask for Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters and receive no other This is the first preparation of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry combined ever offered to the public and the great success attending its use will induce the unprincipled to counterfeit Be sure to see that the bottles have the words DR WOOD'S SARSAPARILLA AND WILD CHERRY BITTERS pressed on the glass as a further protection and label on the bottle will be signed by the proprietor E Thornton, Jr Take these precautions and you will get the genuine article.

From the New Bedford Register

Dr Wood's Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters—The respectability of gentlemen in this town and vicinity, who testify to the benefits, within their personal knowledge derived from the use of this Compound of Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry is such as to put to rest all doubts as to the value of these extracts to those suffering from Dyspepsia Jaundice, Indigestion Headache or Scrofulous diseases When a medicine has been known to effect cures in certain cases more commendation is needed than a simple statement of facts To those then, who are liable to any complaints for which the Sarsaparilla and Wild Cherry Bitters is advertised as a remedy we would say, do as others have done and find relief in the way pointed out by the proprietor of this highly popular compound

"JONES'S DROPS FOR HUMORS."

A PERFECTLY safe internal medicine, having now been about three years before the public and its superlative merits thoroughly tested is destined the Proprietors confidently believe to be instrumental still in the removal of a vast amount of human suffering Let the afflicted procure it immediately—carefully read under stand and then faithfully follow the directions and uniform success will be the inevitable result

CERTIFICATES

This certifies that my daughter, about 3 years of age, has been afflicted with Scrofulous Humors from her birth—I have resorted to many medicines purporting to be remedies, without success, seeing certificates of the effects of Jones's Drops for Humors I was induced to try it and I certainly say that to all appearances less than one bottle has effected a cure and I can confidently recommend it to others similarly afflicted
Saco, April 19, 1844 JOHN H GOWEN

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.— This may certify that I have sold for two years past Jones's Drops for Humors with entire satisfaction to the purchasers and do not doubt that they are a great and good medicine for the complaints they are designed for
York, Me, July 29, 1844 EDW G BROOKS

MR JONES Dear Sir The Drops for Humors left with me are all sold They have been universally approved of and still are called for I do not know of a solitary instance, where they have been used according to directions in which they have not proved themselves conquerors of the diseases they are recommended for who have been afflicted, relieving the distressed and curing the sick Respectfully yours, &c

INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION.

THE above figure is intended to represent the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION It is the great EVACUATION for the impurities of the Body It will be noticed that a thick cloudy mass issues from all parts of the surface which indicates the wonderful process going forward in nature This perspiration flows uninterruptedly when we are in health but ceases when we are sick It should be the care of every one to see that it is not checked Life cannot be sustained without it It is this which from the blood and other juices of the body, arises by this means of nearly all the impurities within us The blood by this means is always kept pure The language of Scripture is in the BLOOD is life It never requires any internal medicine It is ALWAYS purifies itself by its own heat and action and throws off all the offending matter through the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION Thus we see, all that is necessary when the blood is stagnant or infected, is to open the pores and it relieves itself from all impurity instantly Its own heat and activity are sufficient without one particle of medicine except to open the pores upon the surface Thus we see the folly of taking so much internal medicine All practitioners of every direct theory fly to restore the Insensible Perspiration but it seems to be not always the proper one — The Thomsonian for instance steams the Hydropathic shrouds us in wet blankets the Homopathist feels just infinitesimals the Allopathist bleeds and dosses us with mercury and the blustering Quack gorges us with pills pills pills

But one object only is in view viz—to Restore the Insensible Perspiration If this can be done, they say, we will take care of the rest It will be seen, therefore that all physicians understand alike what is necessary to a recovery however much they may differ as to the mode of obtaining it

To give some idea of the amount and consequently the importance of the INSENSIBLE PERSPIRATION we will state that the learned Dr Lewenhoek and the great Boerhaave ascertained that fifty-eight of all we receive into the stomach passed off by this means for other words, if we eat and drink eight pounds per day we exclude five pounds of it by the Insensible Perspiration

This is none other than the used up particles of the blood and other juices giving place to the new and fresh ones by carrying with it all the impurities within, up to the surface To check this, therefore, is to retain in the system five eights of all the virulent matter that nature demands should leave the body And even when this is the case the blood is so active a principle, that it determines those particles to the skin, where they form scals, pimples ulcers, and other spots, but if it is directed inwards, and falls upon the lungs, the consequences are generally fatal

By a sudden transition from heat to cold, the pores are stopped the perspiration ceases, and disease begins at once it develops itself Hence a stoppage of this flow of the juices, originates a swarm of complaints It is through the surface that we imbibe nearly all our ills

It is by keeping the pores, that overwhelms mankind with coughs colds and consumptions Nine tenths of the world die from diseases induced by a stoppage of the Insensible Perspiration

It is easily seen therefore how NECESSARY is the flow of this subtle humor to the surface, to prove vs health It cannot be stopped, it can not be even checked, without inducing disease The blood and intestines must relieve themselves of all their worn out particles, and poisonous humors and they must go through the pores as nature designed

Let me ask now, every candid mind, what course seems the most reasonable to pursue, to unstop the pores after they are closed, and let the perspiration flow, that the blood may relieve itself of its impurities? Would you give physic to UNSTOP the pores? Or would you apply something that would do this upon the surface, where the clogging actually is? Would not this be common sense! And yet I know of no physician who makes any external application to effect it The reason I assign is, that no medicine, within their knowledge, is capable of doing it Under these circumstances I present to physicians, and to all others, a preparation that has the power in its fullest extent It is McAlister's All Healing Ointment or the World's Salve. It has POWER to restore perspiration on the feet, on the head, around old sores, upon the chest, in short upon any part of the body, whether diseased slightly or severely When this perspiration is restored, it has POWER to penetrate to the lungs, liver or any other part of the human system, and so to act upon them, if they be diseased by separating the inflamed morbid particles therefrom, and expelling them to the surface.

It has POWER to cause all external sores, scrofulous humors skin diseases, poisonous wounds, to discharge their putrid matter, and then heals them.

It is a REMEDY that sweeps off the whole catalogue of cutaneous disorders and restores the entire cuticle to its healthy functions

It is a REMEDY that forbids the necessity of so many and deleterious drugs taken into the stomach

It is a REMEDY that neither sickens, gives inconvenience or is dangerous to the intestines

The REMEDY is probably the only one known, that is capable of producing all these great results Its great value is in restoring at once the circulation of the juices when checked or arrested by cold or other causes It preserves and defends the surface from all derangement of functions, while it keeps open the channel for the blood to void all its impurities and dispose of all its useless particles — There is a connection, harmony and less bility in it a that defies contradiction It is a simple but wonderful principle that preserves in healthy operation the entire machinery of supervising — It and exclusively holds together the surface and internal Viscera, the internal Viscera and the surface They are inseparably connected and cannot be disjoined The surface is THE outlet of five eights of the solid and used up matter within It is proven with MILLIONS of operations to RELIEVE the intestines Stop up those pores and DEATH knocks at your door It is rightly termed All-Healing for there is scarcely a disease existing internal, that it will not benefit It will be found the most useful as well as the cheapest family medicine in the world I have used it for the last ourteen years with success without a parallel I have used it for all diseases of the chest consumption, fever, and the most dangerous of internal maladies I have used it in cases of extreme peril and hazard, involving the utmost danger and responsibility and I dare before he were and cried that not in one an gle case has it failed to benefit when the patient was within the reach of mortal means

I never, in my recollection tried more than five or six among the thousands who have used it any thing it was not favorable to their complaint On the contrary I have found it dreadfully and in the warmest and most pathetic language speak in its praise I have had physicians learned in the profession I have had ministers of the gospel Judges from the Bench Aldermen and Lawyers of extensive the highest circulation and MULTITUDES of the POOR spread in every variety of way, and there has been but one voice one united universal voice saying "McAlister, your Ointment is GOOD

CONSUMPTION

Of all diseases we find this the most important and concerning which we meet with the most opposition It can hardly be credited that a salve can have any effect upon the lungs, seated as they are within the system But we say once for all that this Ointment will reach the lungs quicker than any medicine can be given internally Every day cases in the fact that a healing medicine could be applied ON the lungs there would be great hopes of recovery The difficulty is to get the medicine there Now the Salve has the wonderful virtue of drawing the putrid diseased humors from all external sores, healing them and changing the ulcerous matter to healthy flesh Its effects upon internal sores is the same it operates upon internal sores by drawing all the impurities to the surface and throwing them off

Military Entertainment—Splendid Pick Nick.

The Roxbury Artillery whose visit to this city has attracted great attention among our citizens and awakened a new interest in military affairs which had previously reached a low point, were yesterday the guests of the Bangor Rifle Corps They were escorted by the Rifle Corps to the Washingtonian House where an elegant collation was provided, in the preparation of which the Messrs Noterouss did themselves great credit for their good taste and liberal supplies

The Rifle Corps had made preparation with great liberality for a splendid Pick Nick in the dense hard wood grove, on Burleigh's Hill on the road to the six miles falls, about a mile from the city Numerous invitations were extended to the fair daughters of our city—the weather was surpassingly tempting—the fleetest horses were put in requisition and a throng of beauty were congregated in the grove when the Artillery company were escorted to this lovely and beauty bedecked spot. In a fine opening where good mother Nature had spread a live carpet, an extensive plank flooring had been built, and adjoining it, the loviest bower that mortals ever saw, had, somehow, by the joint efforts of nature and human skill been fitted up as the home of the graces, and furnished with all the requisites of a drawing room, while a narrow winding path, led to another opening where an extensive range of tables appeared groaning beneath the weight of good things provided for the sustenance of the body Continuous to the flooring was an orcestra and over this was tastefully arranged the star spangled Banner of American freedom Here the Rifle Corps and their guests encamped

The hour was given up to cordial greeting and social intercourse At length partners were selected the merry music from the band began, the and excitements and joys of the mazy dance commenced Our girls appeared exceedingly beautiful and won many a pretty compliment for their graceful appearance and high accomplishments Soon all assembled at the tables and each seemed zealous in promoting the comfort and happiness of all others We have never seen more genuine kindness, kindly expressed at a feast than at this, and we know of no better definition of true politeness than this—It would be difficult to conceive of a more sumptuous or elegant repast than was here furnished Then followed the well sung songs—the flow of wit—the joyous congratulation, and the renewed dance In the first shadows of the evening the company separated, the Artillery were escorted to their encampment and hundreds felt that they had enjoyed a few delightful hours in social intercourse such as do the heart good We think we may well say that the more our people see of the Roxbury Artillery company the better they like them, and that they are ready to vote unanimously in favor of an annual visit

Presentation of Bibles to the Steamship Bangor, by the Young Men's Bible Society.

The following correspondence between the officers of the Young Men's Bible Society, and Capt Parker of the Steamship Bangor, is highly honorable to the parties and possesses much interest It shows moreover that this society is active in the great work which it has undertaken of disseminating the word of the Infinite Jehovah, revealed to men and angels—the christian's guide—the spiritual directory of all who become acquainted with its treasures, and do according to its directions

This society has in its employ Mr S Souther, as an Agent to visit every vessel that arrives at this port, and where there is any deficiency of a Bible on board to supply such deficiency when he deems it expedient, receiving pay therefor when it is offered, or bestowing it freely on account of the society, when payment is withheld

In a work like this all who venerate the scriptures can cheerfully join and to which great enterprise all can willingly contribute

The following is the correspondence alluded to:—

BANGOR, Aug. 12, 1845

Capt ALDEN PARKER,
Steamship Bangor,

DEAR SIR:—The Young Men's Bible Society of Bangor take pleasure in presenting you, for the use of the Cabin of the new and elegant Steamship Bangor, the accompanying copies of the book of books—the Holy Bible In this mode would the Members and Patrons of that society welcome the Bangor to the line between this city and Boston, bidding her God-speed—and thus connecting the interests of earth with the path to Heaven And they cannot omit here to express their gratification that no motives of pecuniary interest could sway the Directors from a conscientious regard to the sanctity of the Holy Sabbath, in regulating the trips of the Bangor We hail this as a harbinger that success in this enterprize will not, like too much of wordly success, be adverse to the promotion of the religion of the Bible.

To you personally—our friend and neighbor—to those officially associated with you, as well as to the Directors and Proprietors of the Bangor, this society would express, what they truly feel, warm wishes for the success of your enterprize

That these volumes may be read with pleasure and profit by thousands upon thousands who shall take passage in your gallant steamer, and that they may prove a safe chart for them and for you to the Haven of everlasting rest and glory, beyond the tempests, the rocks, and the quicksands of life's ocean, shall be the unceasing prayer of those by whom they are presented

In behalf of the Young Men's Bible Society of Bangor, and by order of the Directors of said Society,

CHARLES GODFREY, President
ASA WALKER, Sec'y

BANGOR, Aug 13, 1845

To the President of the Young Men's Bible Society

DEAR SIR—Nothing could have given me more pleasure than the receiving of the two beautiful volumes of the Holy Bible, presented by your very benevolent society to the Steamship Bangor Truly the weather beaten sailor is no longer neglected, but we rather find that there are good "Samaritans" ready to present to us a chart a compass and directory (all of which are combined in the book of books) by which we may make our passage through this world safely and in the world to come we may by it secure to ourselves life everlasting

As an individual please receive my best wishes I bid you God speed

In behalf of the Directors and Stockholders of the Bangor for your very kind wishes you will accept their highest regard and best wishes

Yours with great respect,
ALDEN PARKER, Master Steamship Bangor

☞ The Steamship Bangor started this morning with a full freight of human ty for an excursion down the river She departed in fine style greeted by the joyous cheers of many and to which her numerous passengers heartily responded The Bangor is a beautiful craft and surprised all who witnessed her departure by her speed and the beauty of her movements — Pressing engagements prevented our complying with the polite invitation of the directors to take passage in her, but we succeeded in securing the attendance of a friend, with whose recent labors during our absence our readers are familiar, and who will give us a report of the doings and sayings on the occasion

We think the party will have a delightful time

☞ A letter from the editor, at Newburyport, together with two communicated articles are necessarily deferred

☞ We are requested to state that the exhibitions of the Fakir of Ava have closed

☞ The Military are out again to day in good style The City Greys have escorted the Roxbury Artillery to Brewer, but the particulars of the day we have not been able to learn

☞ A large party have monopolized all the carriages in town to day for a visit to Pushaw Pond The passengers of the Charter Oak, found themselves compelled generally to walk up to town

☞ The Charter Oak arrived at about ten o clock with nearly two hundred passengers — We are indebted to Mr Charles Spear, her attentive and gentlemanly Clerk for late papers We give him our sincere and hearty thanks

The Parliamentary proceedings have not been of an important character No day appears to have been fixed for the close of the session — The Irish College Bill, a bill having passed the House of Commons, was debated in the Lords on July 21, and passed to a second reading

The Right Hon Earl Grey, who has acted a distinguished part in British politics, died on the 17th ult, at the advanced age of 81

A Mexican concern in Liverpool had failed for £60,000, mostly due to parties in Manchester

The state of Ireland is serious—not to say alarming The chronic disease of the country—its poverty—is making itself superior to law — All O Connell's influence, great as it is, cannot keep the people quiet He cannot fill their mouths, pay their rents, or mitigate the amazing destitution which, like a pall, covers the land— His panaceas have lost their charm for millions of starving paupers Hope deferred maketh the heart sick The county Cavan, if not actually under military law, cannot be reduced by the ordinary tribunals. Grandjean earns its head

The King of Holland arrived in England on the 24th ult, on a visit to Queen Victoria and Prince Albert.

The intelligence from Rome states that the Papal Government, with a view to the more effectual prevention of contraband trade, has reduced considerably the duties of exports and imports on many articles of merchandise, and intends to apply the system of reduction to many others

From France there is very little intelligence of importance Marshal Soult, President of the Council, had left for his estate in the South of France. He had provoked some hostility by apologizing in the Chamber for the terrible atrocity of Col. Pelissier, in burning alive and suffocating the seven or eight hundred Arabs at Dahara. He spoke of the circumstances in which that officer found himself placed, and "confessed" that if he had been placed in the same position, "he should, perhaps, have done something excessive in its severity"

From China.

The news from China is to the 6th of April. The most remarkable item therein is an account of an assault by a mob of Chinese on Mr. Montgomery Martin, Mr Jackson, (the vice consul) and the Rev. R Hunt These gentlemen were, it seems, walking round the walls of Canton, when they were unprovokedly set upon by the people, from whom they luckily escaped with no other injury than the mortification of being buffeted and robbed by a crowd of low blackguards The Governor of Hong Kong has sent to Keying to demand redress and guaranty for future good conduct, but the result is yet unknown The commercial news is of little interest, as far as British goods are concerned, very dull

Conflagration at Smyrna. July 9, 1845.

Smyrna is again in misery and ruin, a larger and more awful conflagration than the last, commenced on the evening of the 2d inst, and continued violently for twelve or fifteen hours, and upwards of two days in burning embers and side fires It began in the centre of the town, aided by a furious north wind, (which afterwards changed), destroying every thing right and left, and for a circumference of at least a mile and a half The town half side of Frank street is consumed, and away to exit to Boudja The English hospital was saved by a miracle, and thereby preserved that part of the town and the so called rue de Rose The Austrian hospital is burnt Close to it Borrell lives, he was saved, although the fire was burning on three sides of him Then backwards, all the Armenian quarter except Purdie street, is destroyed The fire skirted the Jews quarter, burning some 100 houses, and then spread to the grand Vizier Khan and up to the bazaars The Dutch and Tuscan consulates were burnt, two or three large Khans, that is, the Grand Vizier, a new made one, and Imaum Oglu Khan, were destroyed The Greek hospital, close to the Austrian hospital, was saved by a great exertion It had 300 invalids in it Fourteen or fifteen large wine taverns, and their depots, &c, are gone The English have escaped, very few, and these only in rented houses, have been burnt out Some 50 or 60 people lost their lives The Armenians are completely ruined

The Steam Ship Great Britain.

The arrival of this mammoth iron steam ship, appears to have produced quite a sensation in New York —The people flocked by thousands to see her as she came up the harbor The N Y Courier says

"She is unquestionably the largest and most magnificent specimen of naval architecture that ever floated Her total length is three hundred and twenty feet—her breadth fifty, capacity three thousand tons, draught of water sixteen feet her engines are one thousand horse power Her size—the unusual extent to which iron is employed in her construction—and the employment of the screw propeller—are the leading peculiarities which distinguish her from all other steam vessels in existence Her first voyage has been made under such circumstances, and with so successful a result, as to inspire the fullest and most general confidence in her superiority

The N Y Tribune, in referring to this stupendous vessel, says

Owing to her extreme length she was obliged to wait for the tide to swing her in, so that she was not fairly alongside the dock till near dusk We were fortunate enough to board her, and found every thing to just where high expectations we had been led to form of her from notices in the English journals A friend, who came passenger in her, informs us that she behaved most admirably through a succession of heavy gales and head winds for fourteen days, and expresses himself warmly in favor of her internal arrangements

☞ There was some mistake in the announcement yesterday that the Steam Tow Boat would be launched this morning She will be launched to morrow morning at half past seven o clock

Elections.

In North Carolina, the result in the few counties heard from, in the district lately represented by Mr Rayner, do not appear very favorable to the Whigs

In Kentucky, the Whigs continue in the ascendency Garret Davis, Whig, is supposed to be elected over the notorious Tom Marshall by 800 majority In the Covington District Gaines Whig, is probably elected over Tebbetts, loco and in the Louisville District, the chances are yet in favor of the success of Thomasson, the Whig candidate, although fears are expressed by the Louisville Journal that his opponent, Nuttall, may succeed In the Fifth District it looks as if Jones was to succeed Hon, this will be a Whig gain In the Sixth, McKee, Whig, is thought to be safe, and in the Ninth, French, loco, will certainly be elected

In Indiana, the Locos appear to be successful, and will probably elect a majority of the Legislature, which will secure the election of a U S Senator The members to Congress elected are—

Fruits of Annexation—Squally appearances—Rumors of and preparations for War.

The Boston Journal of last evening states that matters are beginning to look serious The fruits of annexation are beginning to be developed "The Washington correspondent of the N Y Courier, says that on Saturday last, there were despatched from the Navy Yard at that place, one hundred and fifty boxes of muskets by the Southern boat, to go through by the mail route to New Orleans, and one hundred boxes in addition have been ordered to be sent after them as quick as they can possibly be prepared The correspondent adds there have been 35,000 ball cartridges ordered, to be prepared and forwarded by the same conveyance with the utmost despatch, as well as a number of gun carriages and other military stores So great is the hurry and so urgent the orders of the Government for the despatch of these warlike stores, that the workmen at the Navy Yard would be at work all the next day, Sunday

We also learn from the New York papers, that orders have been received at New York, requiring Capt Duncan, now at Fort Hamilton, a few miles below that city, to be in readiness at a moments warning with his company of flying artillery to march for Texas It will require two small vessels to transport this company with their horses. Their destination is for the mouth of the Arkansas.

The last number of the Georgetown, (D. C) Advocate has the following;

"Rumors were plentifully afloat yesterday, as to the nature of a despatch said to have been received on the previous evening by the Government from Texas. Now all this we have been able to learn, we suspect that there is growing up in western Texas a state of things as much the more serious than the Florida war as the field of action and the number and power of the Indian enemy there, are greater than was the case in Florida."

Letters from Washington state that a cabinet council was held on Sunday, and rumors were in circulation that Mexico had declared war against the United States

Woman's Rights.

BY MRS CHILD

You ask what are my opinions about 'Woman's Rights' I confess, a strong distaste to the subject, as it has been generally treated On no other theme, probably, has there been uttered so much of false, mawkish sentiment, shallow philosophy, and sputtering, farthing candle wit If the style of its advocates has often been offensive to taste, and unacceptable to reason, assuredly that of its opponents have been still more so. College boys have amused themselves with writing dreams, in which they saw women in hotels with their feet hoisted, and chairs tilted back, or growing and bickering at each other in legislative halls, or fighting at the polls, with eyes blackened by justices But it never seems to have occurred to these facetious writers, that the proceedings which appear so full of ludicrous and improper in women, are also ridiculous and disgraceful in men It were well that men should learn not to hoist their feet above their heads, and tilt their chairs backwards, not to growl and snap in the halls of legislation, or give each other black eyes at the polls

Maria Edgeworth says, "We are disgusted when we see a woman almost overwhelmed with a torrent of learning, that the tide of literature has passed over it should be betrayed only by its fertility" This is beautiful and true;—but is it not likewise applicable to man? The truly great never seek to display themselves If they carry their heads high above the crowd, this only made manifest to others by accidental revelations of their extend division 'Human duties and properties do not be so very far apart, as Harriet Martineau, if they did, there would be two gospels, and two teachers, one for man, another for woman

It would seem, indeed, as if men were willing to give woman the exclusive benefit of gospel teaching "Women should be gentle, says the advocates of subordination but when Christ said "Blessed are the meek did he preach to women only? 'Girls should be modest, is the language of common teaching, continually uttered in words and customs Would it not be an improvement for men, also, to be scrupulously pure in thoughts, conversation, and life Books addressed to young married people abound with advice to the wife on control her temper, and never to utter wrathful complaints, or vexatious words, when the husband comes home fretful or unreasonable, from his out of door conflicts with the world Would not the advice be as excellent and appropriate if the husband were advised to conquer his fretfulness, and to bear his complaints in consideration of his wide spread heating, fatiguing cares, and the thousand disheartening influences of domestic routine? In fact what soever can be named as loveliest, best, and most graceful in woman, would I have be good and true in man You will perhaps remind me of courage If you use the word in its highest signification I answer that woman has others, in abundant need of it in her pilgrimage and the true woman weeps it with a quiet grace If you mean merely animal courage, that is not mentioned in the Sermon on the Mount among those qualities which enable us to inherit the earth, or become the children of God That the feminine of all approaches much nearer to the gospel standard, than the prevailing idea of manhood, is shown by the universal tendency to represent the Saviour and his most beloved disciple with mild, meek expression, and feminine beauty — None speak of the bravery, the might, or the intellect of Jesus, but the devil is always imagined as a being of acute intellect, political cunning and the fiercest courage These universal and instinctive tendencies of the human mind reveal much

That the present position of woman in society is the result of physical force, is obvious enough, whosoever doubts it let her reflect why she is afraid to go out in the evening without the protection of a man What constitutes the danger of aggression? Superior physical strength uncontrolled by the moral sentiments If physical strength were in complete subjection to moral influence, there would be no need of outward protection That animal has not yet ceased to govern the world is painfully apparent in the condition of woman everywhere from the Mohammedan Turkey, whose ceremony of marriage consists in placing the bride on a mat and consigning her to the bridegroom, with the words, 'Here, wolf, take thy lamb,—to the German remark, that 'stuff silk, stinging tobacco, and a girl in her smart dress, are the best things — The same thing softened by the refinements of civilization, peeps out in Stephens's remark that woman never looks so interesting, as when leaning on the arm of a soldier and in Hazlitt's complaint that 'it is so teasing to keep up a conversation with woman in company Has the thought a piece of rudeness to offer from them, it is not quite fair to ask them a reason for what they say

This sort of politeness to women is what men call gallantry, an odious word to every sensible woman, because she sees that it is merely the flimsy veil which foppery throws over sensuality, to conceal its grossness So far is it from inducing sincere esteem and affection for women, that the profligacy of a nation may, in general be fairly measured by its gallantry This taking away rights and condescending to grant privileges, is in old truth of the physical force principle and with the immense majority, who only look on the surface of things this mask effectually disguises an ugliness, which would otherwise be abhorred The most inveterate slaveholders are probably those who take most pride in dressing their household servants handsomely, and who would be most inflamed to have the name of being unnecessarily cruel And profligates, who form the lowest and most sensual estimate of women, are the very ones to treat them with an excess of outward deference

There are few books, which I can read through, without feeling insulted as a woman but this insult is almost universally conveyed through that which was intended for praise — Just imagine, for a moment, what impression it would create on men, if women authors should write about their rosy lips, and 'melting eyes, and 'voluptuous arms, as they write about us! That women in general do not feel this kind of flattery to be an insult, I admit, for, in the first place, they do not perceive the gross chattle principles, of which it is the utterance, moreover, they have, from long habit, become accustomed to consider themselves as household convenience, or gilded toys Hence, they consider it feminine and pretty to abjure all such use of their faculties, as would make them coworkers with man in the advancement of those great principles, on which the progress of society depends 'There is, perhaps, no animal,' says Hannah Moore, 'so much indebted to subordination, for its good behaviour, as woman.' Alas, for the animal age, in which utterance could be tolerated by public sentiment!

Martha Moore, sister of Hannah, describing a very impressive scene at the funeral of one of her Charity School teachers, says 'The spirit within seemed struggling to speak, and I was in a sort of agony, but I recollected that I had heard, somewhere, a woman must not speak in the church Oh, had she been buried in the church yard, a messenger from Mr Pitt himself should not have restrained me, for I seemed to have received a message from a higher Master within

This application of theological teaching carries its own commentary

I have said enough to show that I consider prevalent opinion and customs highly unfavorable to the moral and intellectual development of women; and I need not say, that, in proportion to their true culture, women will be more useful and happy, and dome the life more perfected. True culture, in them, as in men, consists in the full and free development of individual character, regulated by their own perceptions of what is true and their own love of what is good

This individual responsibility is rarely acknowledged, even by the most refined, as necessary to the spiritual progress of women. I once heard a very beautiful lecture from R W. Emerson, on Being and Seeming. In the course of many remarks, as true as they were graceful, he urged women to be, rather than seem. He told them that all their labored education of forms, strict observance of genteel etiquette, tasteful arrangement of the toilette, &c all this seeming would not gain hearts like being truly what God had made them, that earnest simplicity, the sincerity of nature, would kindle the eye, light up the countenance, and give an inexpressible charm to the plainest features

The advice was excellent, but the motive by which it was urged, brought a flush of indignation over my face Men were exhorted to be, rather than to seem, that they might fulfil the sacred mission to which their souls embodied, that they might in God's freedom, grow up into the full stature of spiritual manhood but women were urged to simplicity and truthfulness, that they might become more pleasing

Are we not all immortal beings? Is not each one responsible to himself and herself? There is no measuring the mischief done by the prevailing tendency to teach women to be virtuous as a duty to men rather than to God—for the sake of pleasing the creature, rather than the Creator God is thy law, thou mine, said Eve to Adam May Milton be forgiven for sending that thought out into everlasting time in such a jewelled setting What weakness vanity, frivolity, infinity of moral purpose, sinful flexibility of principle—in a word, what a soulless thing, has been the result of thus putting man in the place of God!

But while I see plainly that society is on a false foundation, and that prevailing views concerning woman indicate the want of wisdom and purity, which they serve to perpetuate—still, I must acknowledge that much of the talk about Women's Rights offends both my reason and my taste I am not of those who maintain there is no sex in souls, nor do I like the results deducible from that doctrine

Kimmont, in his admirable book, called the Natural History of Man, speaking of the warlike courage of the ancient German women, and of their being respectfully consulted on important public affairs, says 'You ask me if I consider all this right, and deserving of approbation? or that women were here engaged in their appropriate tasks? I answer, yes, it is just as right that they should take this interest in the honor of their country, as the other sex Of course I do not think that women were made for war and battle neither do I believe that men were But since the fashion of the times has made it so, and settled it that war was a necessary element of greatness, and that it safely was to be practised without it I argue that it shows a healthful state of feelings of both sexes were equally consulted in the case that there was no division in the house, or the State, and that the serious pursuits and objects of the one were also the serious pursuits and objects of the other

The nearer society approaches to divine order, the less separation will be in the characters, duties and pursuits of men and women Women will not become less gentle and graceful, but men will become more so Women will not neglect the care and education of their children, but men will find themselves enabled and rejoiced by sharing their duties with them, and will receive, in return cooperation and sympathy in the discharge of various other duties now deemed inappropriate to women Then women will become rational companions partners in business and in thought as well as in affection and amusement the man highly will more appreciate home—that blessed word, which opens to the human heart the perfect glorious of Heaven and helps the early faith that we are an angel's wing
